PRESS RELEASE #2: Mitigating environmental disruptive events using people-centric predictive digital technologies to improve disaster and climate resilience: Joint Efforts

Minority Report is proud to be a signatory of the Joint Manifesto of the Resilience of the Built Environment Cluster, a collaborative initiative uniting seven Horizon Europe projects committed to strengthening climate resilience, inclusivity, and sustainability across Europe.

Why this collaboration matters

Climate change and disruptive events increasingly affect cities, buildings, and communities. Through this manifesto, Minority Report joins forces with CARMINE, CLIMRES, MAIA, MULTICARE, MULTICLIMACT, and RETIME to maximise collective impact and deliver shared value to society.

What the Resilience of the Built Environment Cluster stands for: The cluster is built on a shared vision and common principles:

- A future-proof built environment that is adaptive to climate risks and emergencies
- Inclusive approaches that prioritise vulnerable and marginalised communities
- Strong links between science and practice, bridging research and real-world application
- Digital and forward-looking tools to anticipate risks and reduce adverse impacts
- Transparency, scientific rigour, and sustainability as guiding values

How Minority Report contributes: Within the cluster, Minority Report brings its people-centric predictive digital technologies supporting:

- Inclusive decision-making at building and city scale
- Early risk awareness and resilience planning
- Integration of social, environmental, and technical knowledge
- Co-design of solutions with communities, professionals, and authorities

What the collaboration will deliver: Together, the cluster will work on:

- Joint dissemination and outreach, including coordinated events and campaigns
- Knowledge exchange, sharing tools, frameworks, and data across projects
- Policy engagement, contributing aligned recommendations to EU strategies
- Community empowerment, advancing participatory and co-creation approaches

Looking ahead

Through continuous collaboration, the Resilience of the Built Environment Cluster aims to turn research into action. Minority Report is proud to contribute to this joint effort, supporting a climate-ready, inclusive, and sustainable Europe aligned with the EU Green Deal, Horizon Europe Missions, Built4People, Open Science, and the New European Bauhaus.
